

NENT Group's Danish hit original series 'Face to Face' set for second season

- Trine Dyrholm and Christoffer Boe return as star and director of second season
- Season one of 'Face to Face' set viewing record for a NENT Group original series when premiered in November
- NENT Group to premiere at least 20 original productions every year

Nordic Entertainment Group (NENT Group), the Nordic region's leading streaming company, has commissioned a second season of its record breaking Danish original series 'Face to Face'. The first season is the most watched NENT Group original series in November 2019. Season two of 'Face to Face' will premiere exclusively on Viaplay across the Nordic region in 2021.

In the new season of 'Face to Face' (Danish title: 'Forhøret'; Swedish title: 'Förhöret'), Susanne (Trine Dyrholm: 'Face to Face' season one; 'Queen of Hearts') continues to struggle with the loss of her daughter. Resuming her work as a psychologist, Susanne learns a shocking secret from a patient under hypnosis and then races across Copenhagen to prevent an appalling crime. But is Susanne herself as innocent as she seems?

Christoffer Boe ('Face to Face' season one; 'Kriger'; 'The Purity of Vengeance') returns to write and direct 'Face to Face' season two, which is produced by Miso Film (NENT Group's 'Those Who Kill') and starts filming in early 2020.

Filippa Wallestam, NENT Group Chief Content Officer: "The concept behind this record breaking series is simple and yet so effective. Each episode brings a new and increasingly intense encounter between two characters with very different motives, as the stakes and the suspense rise each time. The writing, acting and cinematography will continue to set new standards in the second season. A descent into the moral and physical underworld in the best traditions of classic film noir, 'Face to Face' is the next stage in the evolution of the Nordic crime genre."
